Women's Day Brooch-making workshop

For Women's Day, we celebrated creativity and self-expression with a special brooch-making workshop. The session was filled with laughter, shared stories, and the joy of creating something beautiful by hand. Everyone that participated designed a brooch that was uniquely their own, expressing their individuality. It was a heartfelt way to honour women's creativity and to spend the day together in art and celebration.

Highlights from the Exhibition: From Shadows to Spectrum

We are delighted to share that the opening of our latest exhibition, From Shadows to Spectrum, was a wonderful success. The Upstairs African Gallery was alive with conversation, reflection, and connection as guests experienced the powerful works on display. From Ayanda's photographic series capturing childhood play on dusty streets, to other pieces exploring memory and identity, the exhibition opened with energy and warmth. If you weren't able to join us on the day, there's still plenty of time to visit. From Shadows to Spectrum will be open until the end of September at the Woza Moya Upstairs African Gallery. We invite you to spend some time with these remarkable works.

Seaweed Elegance

Add a touch of the ocean to your look! Our handcrafted seaweed beaded necklaces are playful, unique, and full of natural charm. Perfect for layering or wearing solo, each necklace brings a little piece of the sea wherever you go.

Available in-store and online

From Hillcrest to Wiltshire

We love seeing where our handmade treasures find a home! Jane Dyer, a supporter from Wiltshire, England sent us beautiful photos of Woza Moya items brightening up her home.

It's always inspiring to see our craft journeying across the world!
